don't pay too much!

To stay competitive in business today it is just as much about what you don't spend as it is about how much you sell.

Most businesses are paying too much for their phone communications and this eats into your bottom line.

For years now we have heard about how we should all go to "IP based phones". Prior to the NBN these "IP Phone" solutions were often junk – with call dropouts and voice delays. Now we have gone to the NBN we don't have any choice – all previous copper line based POTS and ISDN phones are either already gone or going. However, the NBN has now breathed new life into IP Phone solutions, but not every IP phone solution is a good one.

At Kerr Solutions, we have been providing great computer solutions for businesses and consumers in Central Queensland for the last 22 years. Very quietly, since NBN came to town we have been working on IP phone solutions with a select number of our business customers and fine tuning our offerings. Now that we have ironed out all the kinks we are happy to release these solutions to the wider business community.

With our IP phone offerings, we can save you thousands each year off your monthly phone bills. Plus we can get you away from depending on specialist phone technicians and expensive equipment life cycle costs. Our IP based business phone solutions run over the same cables as your computers, through the same network infrastructure as your computers and across your existing NBN connection. You can keep your existing phone numbers and enjoy all of your existing phone features plus some handy new ones. All without the need for an expensive phone box sitting on the wall in a back room – and without ongoing equipment rentals.
